“ I remember when my fiance Samantha Byars and myself took Hailey to her server job right down the street from her house and it was the first time we met her. She was so full of life and so excited about the fact that she was going to be waiting on people and taking care of them and just a simple fact that she was working. She felt so accomplished and just so excited to be doing what adults do that she was ready to move on with her life and start making the right choices a young prospering adult makes. It was really excited for us to watch her as she went into work that day just so happy and so joyful about what she was about to do. Shortly after that she met my soon-to-be stepson my fiance's son Dylan whom she had gone to elementary school and Junior high with and completely just took him under her Wing took him in and just showed him a good time. She was really good friends with him and they were actually inseparable for almost a week hanging out reliving old memories and just having a great time as young adults should do. It saddens us to see that this world was robbed of such a young hopeful person to really kind of do some great things with their life due to some stupidity of others but she really was a great child a great young adult and she will be missed by many. She truly had a lot to offer this world and we are all robbed by the fact that she's no longer with us may she rest in peace. Sincerely Samantha Byars and Sean Maunders
